Flinders University

Library | Ngutungka
"place of knowledge"

Copyright Tracker

HDR and Master's by Research/Coursework Students

This copyright tracker is designed to help you keep track of any third-party copyright material included in your thesis as you write.

Completing this tracker throughout your candidature, from the time you commence, will make the thesis submission process much easier and help identify any permission required in the process of your candidature. See information in Copyright for researchers.

Student details

Student ID	Name	Degree	College	Supervisor	Thesis

Copyright Material Register and Tracker

Not everything requires permission. Common examples that may not require permission include:

- Material you created yourself.
- Creative Commons licensed material (subject to licence terms)
- Public domain material
- Material used under a statutory exception
- Accepted manuscript versions of published papers where permitted by publisher policy.

Questions to ask yourself:

- Did I create this material myself?
- Is it covered by a Creative Commons licence? See different CC licences.
- Is it in the public domain?
- Have I obtained written permission? See: Email permissions template and RightsLink permission directions
- Have I included the required acknowledgement?

Material Type*/ Source: Image, figure, table, map etc.	Description	Pg no. in thesis	Copyright Owner	Permission required?	Acknowledgement Required?	Status*: Action required

Status guide: No action required Check licence or publisher policy Permission or redaction required

Published Papers Included in Thesis

Complete this section if your thesis contains published or accepted journal articles. See also Including publications in your thesis

Chapter	Publication Title	Publisher	Version Included (Published/AAM)	Publisher Policy Checked	Acknowledgement Added	Embargo Applies?

Final Submission Checklist

Before submitting your thesis	YES/NO
Have all third-party material been identified?
Have you recorded all the sources?
Have you checked the publisher policies for published papers?
Have you obtained permissions where required?
Have you added copyright acknowledgements where required?
Have you recorded Creative Commons licences?
Have you completed redactions, where necessary?
Have you saved this document for your records?

If unsure, contact: copyright@flinders.edu.au